Goals and Objectives

All students deserve the opportunity to explore, learn, and make music in success-oriented settings. Despite small budgets and limited resources, it is still possible to facilitate high-quality experiences for students. This interactive session will introduce buckets and other unusual instruments that can provide your students with unique musical experiences. After experiential music-making, attendees will receive an overview of how to acquire donated or inexpensive instruments, free or inexpensive teaching materials, and sample lessons for use in the general music classroom.

Discussion and Q&A
Lesson Plans and Step-by-Step Guide in Implementing

LESSON 1: Introduction to Unique Percussion Instruments
Students may not understand how paint buckets and colorful tubes can turn into instruments. You may want to share some videos to show the fascinating capabilities of these instruments!

LESSON 2: Rhythm
Using rhythm cards, have students speak and/or clap the rhythms. Add body percussion with the following instructions:

- Quarter notes = clap
- Eighth notes = stomp
- Sixteenth notes = tap
- Rest = rest

Suddenly, rhythmic reading exercises have become full-body experiences, and the possibilities are endless! Have students determine new body percussion sounds to be associated with each rhythm, perform the rhythm in a round, etc.!

LESSON 3: Bucket Drums
Introduce the two components to bucket drums: the bucket and the drumsticks. First, teach appropriate stick technique and the options for playing on the bucket (top, side, sticks). Apply the bucket options to rhythm reading exercises from the previous lesson:

- Quarter notes = top
- Eighth notes = sides
- Sixteenth notes = sticks

Advance this lesson by having students decode the rhythms of the following chants! Once the rhythm is decoded, perform on buckets using the options above!
Bee, Bee, Bumble Bee,
Stung a man upon his knee,
Stung a pig upon his snout.
I declare that you are out!

LESSON 4: Boomwhackers

Introduce the instrument by playing each note individually. Ask students to determine how it makes noise, and what about the instrument’s size impacts the pitch.

Teach students to sing the solfege notes of familiar songs, such as:

- All Around the Buttercup ( drm s)
- Apple Tree ( d m sl)
- Bell Horses ( m sl)
- Button You Must Wander ( drm sl)
- Firefly ( drm sl)
- Here Comes a Bluebird ( drm sl)
- Rocky Mountain ( drm sl)
- Seashell ( drm s)

After singing the song in solfege, hand out one Boomwhacker to each student. Instead of singing all notes, each student is now responsible for only one note. To help students know when to play their note, the teacher should physically group the same notes together and conduct when it is the turn for each note to play.

Considerations for Success

- Mouse Pads can be placed on the top of the drum to dampen the sound
- Students may play their drumsticks on the floor or chairs if there are not enough buckets for each student
- Invest in earplugs to protect your hearing!
