Discretionary Expenses – Using the Statistics Features

Anthony wants to make a discretionary purchase of a basic laptop computer. He checks the prices of a particular make and model listed by seven different vendors on a shopping comparison website. He found these prices: $850, $798, $2,400, $790, $836, $700, $780. Using the Ti84Ce calculate the mean, median, mode, and standard deviation of the laptop prices. He computes the mean as $1,022. This number doesn't seem to be a good representation of the data. How can he find a better representation?

Employment – Benefits

Marina works at Washington Performing Arts Center. Her employer offers her a pension. Marina's employer uses a formula to calculate the pension.

A retiring employee will receive 1.5% of their average salary for the last five years of employment for every year worked.
